

Back to Work: Keeping Staff and Temporary Workers Reassured and Safe

CDF partner Todd Wulffson authors the article "Back to Work: Keeping Staff and Temporary Workers Reassured and Safe" for Staffing Industry Review. In this article, Todd outlines steps employers can take when bringing employees back to work.

Excerpt: "Virtually all of the US population was recently subject to stay-at-home orders. As states begin lifting restrictions that allow employees to return to work, staffing firms in particular face a myriad of legal pitfalls and logistical challenges as they recall employees — both their own as well as temporary workers to send on assignments — who have been working remotely or sitting idle during the COVID-19 pandemic, and may now be going back to work in multiple locations."
